A Word to the Wise!

HIGHLY IMPORTANT TO FARMERS

Renner's Chemical Fertilizer!

THE importance of a quick, active and durable Fertilizer, adapted to the soil of our county, is acknowledged by all Farmers. Having satisfied myself, after long study and careful experiment, that F. O. RENNER'S

Chemical Fertilizer

surpasses all others in adaptedness to all kinds of soil, I have purchased the right for Adams county, and am prepared to fill orders for it promptly and on reasonable terms. It is a no humbug, but

HAS BEEN SUCCESSFULLY TRIED

by a number of our Farmers, and is admitted by all who have it to be the best in the market, and the cheapest. I am prepared to furnish this Fertilizer in any quantity, and will deliver

In any town or village in the County, when ordered in not less quantity than a TON. I manufacture it for sale at $60 per ton without bags, or $65 in bags. This fertilizer is composed of the best fertilizing substance that can be had. I use no oil of vitriol; it does not contain any ammonia, therefore I do not use it. Neither do I use lime nor ashes.

THE OBJECT OF THE CHEMICAL FERTILIZER

is to introduce a fertilizer that will last for a series of crops—not only for one. It contains sufficient ammonia matter to mature the grain and make it ripen early, while the ammonia forces the growth. I expect to manufacture two TONS PER DAY this winter for the spring crops, and therefore invite farmers and the public generally to give it a trial on all kinds of Grains and Vegetables.

CAUTION.—I hereby give notice that Farm Rights hereafter sold unlicensed by me, are infringements on my Right, and will be prosecuted and dealt with according to law, from which there is no appeal.

THE SLEEPING WIFE.

My wife! how calmly sleepest thou!
A perfect peace is on thy brow;
Thine eyes beneath their fringed lid
Like stars behind a cloud are hid;
Thy voice is mute, and not a sound
Disturbs the tranquil air around;
I'll watch and mark each line of grace
That God has drawn upon thy face.

My wife! thy breath is low and soft;
To catch its sound I listen oft;
The tightest leaf of Persian rose
Upon thy lips might find repose.
So deep thy slumber, that I press'd
My trembling hand upon thy breast,
In sudden fear that envious death
Had robb'd thee, sleeping, of thy breath.

My wife! thy speaking face now seems
To show the tenor of thy dreams:
Methinks thy gentle spirit strays
Amid the scenes of earlier days;
Thy thoughts, perchance, now dwell on him
Whom most thou lov'st, or in the dim
And shadowy future strive to pry,
With woman's curious, earnest eye.

Sleep on! sleep on! my dreaming wife!
Thou livest now another life,
With beings filled, of fancy's birth,
I will not call thee back to earth;
Sleep on until the car of morn
Above the eastern hills is borne;
Then thou wilt wake again, and bless
My sight with conscious loveliness.

THE MINISTER AND THE BOY.

Many years ago a certain minister was going one Sunday morning to his school room. He walked through a number of streets, and, as he turned a corner, he saw a bonded Springs, and is prepared to saw to order bills of boys, playing marbles. On seeing him approach, they began to pick up their marbles and run away as fast as they could. One little fellow, not having seen him as soon as the rest, before he could succeed in gathering up his marbles the minister had come to him and placed his hand upon his shoulder. They were face to face, the minister of God and the poor little ragged boy, who had been caught in the act of playing marbles on Sunday morning. And how did the minister deal with the boy? That is what I wanted you to notice.

He might have said to him, "What are you doing there? You are breaking the Sabbath! Don't you deserve to be punished?"

But he did nothing of the kind. He simply said, "Have you found all your marbles?"

"No" said the boy, "I haven't."

Then said the minister, "I'll help you." Whereupon he knelt down and began to look for the marbles; and as he did so, he remarked, "I liked to play at marbles when I was a little boy, very much, and I think I can beat you;" but he added, "I never play marbles on Sunday."

The little boy's attention was now arrested. He liked his friend's face, and began to wonder who he was. Then the minister said:

"I'm going to a place where I think you would like to be; will you come with me?"

Said the boy, "Where do you live?"

"In such and such a place," was the answer.

"Why, that's the minister's house!" exclaimed the boy, as he did not suppose that a kind man and a minister of the Gospel could be the same persons.

"Yes," said the man, "I am the minister myself; and if you'll come with me I think I can do you some good."

Said the boy, "My hands are dirty, I can't go."

"But," said the minister, "here's a pump—why not wash them?"

Said the boy, "I'm so little I can't wash an I pump at the same time."

"Well," said the minister, "if you'll wash I'll pump."

He at once set to work, and pumped and pumped; and the boy washed his hands and face till they were quite clean.

Said the boy, "My hands are wringing wet, and I don't know how to dry 'em."

The minister pulled out a clean handkerchief and offered it to the boy.

Said the boy, "but it is clean."

"Yes," was the reply, "but it was made to be dirtied."

The boy dried his hands and face with the handkerchief, and then accompanied the minister to the door of the Sunday school.

Twenty years after, the minister was walking in the street of a large city when a toll man tapped him on the shoulder, and looking into his face, "You don't remember me?"

"No," said the minister, "I don't."

"Do you remember twenty years ago; finding a little boy playing marbles round a pump? Do you remember that boy's being too dirty to go to school, and you pumped for him, and speaking kindly to him, and taking him to school?"

"Oh!" said the minister, I do remember."

"Sir, said the gentleman, "I was that boy. I rose in business and became a leading man. I have attained a position in society; and on seeing you to day in the street, I felt bound to come to you and say that it is to your kindness, and wisdom, and christian discretion—to your having dealt with me persuasively, that I owe, under God, all that I have attained, and what I am at the present day."—Unitarian Herald.

CRAWLED UP.—Once upon a time a gentleman found in his henroost a simple minded soul of the vicinity, who lived without visible means of support.

"What are you doing here, you rascal? Stealing my chickens?"

"No, sir, was the response; "I ain't thought of doing nothing of the sort."

It unfortunately happened that the simple minded individual wore a high straw hat, of the dimensions of a bee hive, and the crown thereof was dilapidated to a serious extent. Just as he had put in his denial, the head of a half grown pullet was seen to protrude from the aperture.

"See there," said the gentleman; "how did the chicken get in your hat?"

"Well!" exclaimed the simple minded individual, with an air of honest surprise and embarrassment, "that is the strangest thing that ever happened to me. I suppose the darned critter must have crawled up my trowsers leg!"

NIGHT AIR.—An extraordinary fallacy is the dread of night air. What air can we breathe at night, but night air? The choice is between pure night air from without and foul air from within. Most people prefer the latter. An uncountable choice. What will they say, if it is proved to be true that fully one half of all the disease we suffer from is occasioned by people sleeping with their windows shut? An open window, most nights in the year, can never hurt any one.

"JAKE, lend me ten dollars till I sell my dorg!" Jake replied soothingly and sympathetically: "Oh! Jim, I wouldn't sell him."

GIVE WILLING BOYS A CHANCE.

The lesson inculcated in the following brief sketch is worth studying:

A green, rustic lad came years ago to the metropolis from a Connecticut village. At home he had done well in an honorable way, but he had read and heard of the wonderful city. He made up his mind he could do something in it. When he reached the city no place seemed open to him. Day after day he hunted for business. Want stared him in the face. He would not go back to his friends. Dropping into a large dry goods house one day in the search for work he chanced to come face to face with the proprietor.

"We have nothing for you to do, sir," this great business man said in reply to his inquiry, "but stay, what can you do?" he continued, "you seem to be an honest looking lad."

"Oh, sir, I can do anything—only try me. Only give me chance to do some thing!"—And the tears came out and trickled down the cheeks of the almost forlorn boy, though he tried as hard as he could to repress them. "I will take the poorest place and do my best."

He was engaged and set to work. He was sent down to the cellar and commenced his business career in New York by pounding bent nails, which had been thrown in a pile beside the packing boxes, so they could be used. This was his work for two weeks, and he barely kept body and soul together on the pay he received. Then he was put in a better place. Then he rose to be a clerk, and no clerk was so hard-working, so faithful, so interested in this great house as himself. He saw his chance and counted up in his own busy brain every point in the game.

In five years from that time he sat on the manager's seat and hammered the crooked ins and outs of the business straight.

During his clerkship he never missed a day; and no morning went by without reporting promptly at seven o'clock. He saved money and prospered as the years went by. Go up Broadway to-day, and you will see his name in golden letters over the entrance to one of the largest and finest establishments. In that building there are seventeen million dollars worth of stock.—His trade extends all over the land. His fortune is princely. And even now, though the great merchant is getting gray, and the old time energy is waxing slow, a new light will come into his eyes, and a new life to his form, when he tells of those past days of striving, and says to the young men around him:

"Work, if you would succeed. Be a true, faithful, earnest clerk, if you would become a merchant of position and importance."

A GOOD STORY OF LEWIS CASS.—Captain A——, of Missouri, is known all the way on the Mississippi from New Orleans to Dubuque, as a big hearted, jovial fellow, who does not stand on the ceremony of an introduction before commencing an acquaintance. The Captain is fond of a drink, and moreover does not like to drink alone. It so happened that business called him to Washington, and he had as a compagnon de voyage a stout, thick-set man well up in years, who wore a wig, and who presented a striking resemblance to the late Lewis Cass. To beguile the tedium of the voyage, they chatted together and drank together.

Captain A——, one evening after his arrival, thought he espied his companion in the densely crowded office of Brown's Hotel, and stepping up to him, he briskly slap

The Star & Sentinel.

Friday, Dec. 24, 1869.

Advertisers and others interested will bear in mind that the regular circulation of the "STAR AND SENTINEL" is much larger than that of any other paper published in the County, being read weekly by not less than 11,000 persons.

SETTLING UP!

We have on our books a large amount of unpaid Subscriptions, Advertising and Jobbing, and have commenced making out accounts, which will be forwarded to those indebted as rapidly as they can be prepared. The Cash system has been introduced in every thing requisite to a newspaper office. We have to pay Cash for every pound of paper, every pound of ink and type, and all the labor employed in the office. To meet our engagements, we are compelled to reduce our business to the Cash basis, as far as practicable. We have been sending the "STAR AND SENTINEL" to some subscribers for nearly three years, without realizing anything on their subscriptions—to others for a less period. With the heavy outlay incident to the management of the office, it is absolutely necessary that we realize promptly the amounts due us. We hope that all our friends will see the propriety and necessity of promptly meeting these bills as they are sent out.

We propose at an early date to revise our mailing list, and to STRIKE OFF all who manifest no disposition to pay the printer. With this fair notice, delinquent subscribers cannot complain if they find their papers stopped.

Our terms are $2.50 per annum, when not paid in advance. As we are anxious to close up our old accounts as promptly as possible, WE WILL ACCEPT $2 A YEAR FROM ALL WHO PAY UP PROMPTLY, on receipt of bills. Those who neglect to pay, and force us to the expense of collecting bills by agents or other means, will be required to pay the full $2.50.

In this connection we renew our cordial thanks to those of our patrons who have so promptly paid their subscriptions—also to those who have so generously aided in extending the already large circulation of the "STAR AND SENTINEL." During the last three months we have received quite a number of new subscribers, and can thus readily afford to drop the "dead-heads" without affecting our aggregate circulation.

On Saturday President GRANT tendered the Hon. E. M. STANTON, late Secretary of War, the appointment to the vacancy on the Supreme Bench occasioned by the resignation of Justice GRIER. The compliment was enhanced by the President calling personally on Mr. STANTON and informing him that he had contemplated his appointment for some time. The nation can never repay SECRETARY STANTON for his priceless services during the Rebellion. The bosom friend of LINCOLN, the great War Minister stood bravely and unflinchingly to his post during the entire Rebellion, undisturbed by the denunciations of personal enemies, the complaints of fault-finding officers and civilians, and the abandonment of weak-kneed friends—resolutely discharging his duties, fearlessly and imparitally, until victory crowned our arms. Then came the new peril to the Republic from the assassination of LINCOLN and the apostacy of ANDREW JOHNSON. It was all important that the Army be manipulated so as to prevent its becoming an engine in the hands of that bold, bad demagogue, and STANTON continued at his post, thwarting the designs of these fresh enemies of the country, until it was deemed safe for him to retire, when, with shattered constitution, he surrendered his office, to seek in the retirement of private life the rest made absolutely necessary by the fearful tension of four years of unremitting devotion to arduous and responsible duties. Doubtless Secretary STANTON erred at times in the administration of the War Department. He may have been arbitrary and despotic—but the times required a War Minister of inflexible will and determined purpose. Had he been less arbitrary he would have failed in his great work. We hope the condition of his health may enable him to accept the position tendered him by President GRANT. Aside from his eminent services during the Rebellion, Mr. STANTON is a lawyer of marked ability, and will dignify the Supreme Bench.

On Monday the President formally nominated Mr. STANTON, and the Senate promptly confirmed it, without the usual reference, thus attesting its opinion of the eminent fitness of the nomination.

PHILADELPHIA does not seem to be a healthy atmosphere for busy bodies. A Mrs. MELLINGER was arrested at the instance of ANDREW G. COCHRAN and others, and held to answer at Court the charge of being a common scold, the allegation being that she was in the habit of coming to her door and calling her neighbors "chuckle-heads," "smugglers," &c., all of which allegations Mrs. M. denied. Being discharged she brought an action against COCHRAN and others for malicious prosecution, and the jury mulcted the defendants in $10,000 damages.

HON. JOHN W. STEVENSON, at present Governor of Kentucky, has been elected U. S. Senator to succeed Senator MCCREERY. The contest was close, and decided after several days balloting. STEVENSON is a man of fair abilities, with strong Southern proclivities, but is said to favor the admission of negro testimony in the Courts of Kentucky.

THE President proposes to remove the territorial officers of Washington Territory, on account of their alleged disaffection in the recent election.—The officers to be decapitated are FLANDERS, Governor; DENNISON, Chief Justice; WILSON, Collector of Customs, and REITZ, U. S. Marshal.

JUDGE STRONG, of this State, will probably be appointed Attorney General, in case Mr. HOAR's nomination to the Supreme Bench be confirmed by the Senate.

COLONEL GORDON LOFLAND, the Commissioner for Ohio of the Gettysburg Cemetery, died on Friday night.

Gen. GARFIELD succeeded on Thursday last in getting the House to a final vote on the Census Bill, and it now goes to the Senate. We have not seen the details of the bill as passed by the House, but the essential features reported by the committee have been retained. It is far more reaching and comprehensive in the statistical results to be secured than any previous Census act, and also differs in some important particulars from previous acts in its machinery and mode of operation. The Census taking force, as proposed by the bill, consists of a Superintendent of the Census, whose office shall be a bureau in the Department of the Interior, to be appointed by the President and Senate, and to serve for three years, at $5,000 per year; clerks as shall be necessary, to serve for three years; one District Superintendent for each Congressional District, each Territory and the District of Columbia, except that cities which elect several Congressmen may have one District Superintendent; and enumerators, one for each subdivision into which the District Superintendent may divide his district, which subdivisions shall in no case include parts of two counties, wards or towns. All these officers are to be sworn, and furnished with blanks from the central office. Twenty days before the first day of June, 1870, these blanks are to be distributed to every house and place of business, and during the month of June are to be collected by the enumerators and transmitted to the District Superintendent, and by him forwarded to the Superintendent of the Census at Washington. The District Superintendents are paid eight dollars a day for sixty days, and the enumerators four dollars a day for the time they are employed, which cannot exceed sixty days. The Superintendent of the Census will make a preliminary report to Congress at its next session, embracing the statistics of population so far as are required to make the new apportionment for members of Congress. His fully digested report is to be made within three years from the date of his appointment.

Besides the statistics of population—and under this head will be embraced returns of material and value of dwellings, names, descriptions as to age, sex, color, married or single, birth, parentage, occupation, citizenship, right to vote, education as to reading and writing, value of their real estate, personal estate, deaths in each family and causes—the Census act requires from railroad companies a minute, detailed statement of every item of the cost of their road, its employees, receipts from each specific source, expenses, and what they are for specifically; every detail of their business, its amount and nature, and accidents. The same of canals; of the coastwise, inland and river navigation; exact statements of newspaper circulations; State, city and county debt.

The statistics of agriculture embrace name of owner, tenant, how many acres cultivated and not, wood land unenclosed, value of farm, of buildings, of tools, total wages paid for 1869, number of horses and amount of live stock, and animal and vegetable products in all their varieties. The statistics of mechanical, mining and manufacturing establishments, of fisheries, of mercantile traders, and of social, educational and religious, charitable, sanitary, reformatory and penal institutions complete the list.

The Senate, on Tuesday, sent the House bill to a Committee for revision, but passed a resolution suspending the present Census act until Feb. 1, so as to give time to consider the new bill after the holiday recess.

At the close of the Rebellion the loyal Legislature of Tennessee voted a gold medal to Gen. GEORGE H. THOMAS, the hero of Nashville, whose decisive victory over Hood saved the State from Rebel spoliation and electrified the Union, and ordered his portrait to be placed in the State Capitol. Times have changed. The Rebel element is again dominant in Tennessee, and recently a motion was made in the Legislature to remove the portrait. This bold insult to a gallant soldier was too mean a demonstration for even the Rebel majority, and the motion was voted down. But Gen. THOMAS, hearing of it, promptly wrote to the Speaker of the House enquiring the cost of the portrait, as he was anxious to replace the money in the Treasury, and announcing his purpose to return the gold medal as soon as it came into his possession. Spunky that, and the natural response of a true soldier who asks no favors from his country's enemies.

THE President has nominated BENJAMIN F. POTTS, of Ohio, as Governor of Montana in place of J. M. ASHLY to be removed. When ASHLY was appointed last Spring there were serious objections to his confirmation and he narrowly escaped rejection by the Senate. The President has since become satisfied that the objections to ASHLY were well founded, and hence the determination to remove him. Mr. POTTS is a member of the Ohio State Senate, which, by reason of the recent death of a Republican Senator, is a tie. The resignation of POTTS would give the Democrats the control of the Senate, and as the vote of Ohio on the 15th Amendment might in such contingency be endangered, his nomination will probably be laid over until Ohio has acted on the Amendment.

THE U. States Senate on Friday night held a protracted session on the Bill for the admission of Georgia, the friends of the bill insisting on a vote and its opponents speaking against time. At 1½ o'clock at night the Senate was brought to a vote and the bill passed, yeas 45, nays 9. It provides for a re-assembling of the Legislature, in accordance with the recommendation of Gen. GRANT. The colored members, excluded in defiance of the State Constitution and the Reconstruction acts, are to be restored to seats, while only those who are to be excluded who actively and voluntarily aided the Rebellion. The ratification of the XVth Amendment is made a condition of restoration to the Union.

The House, on Tuesday, passed the Senate bill without amendment by a vote of 121 to 51. Gov. Bullock, of Georgia, who approves the bill, will at once re-convene the Legislature to take the requisite steps for full restoration to the Union.

THERE seems to be no doubt of the election of Gov. DAVIS in TEXAS. The returns from the distant districts come in slowly, but the latest despatches put his majority over HAMILTON at from 1,200 to 3,000, and claim the election of three Republican members of Congress, the Conservatives electing the fourth.

DR. WORTHINGTON having been appointed Secretary and Agent of the new Board of Public Charities, has resigned his position as Appraiser at the port of Philadelphia.

CARDINAL Pentini's death, announced by cable, makes the sixteenth vacancy in the College of the Cardinals. No nominations will be made by the Holy Father during the session of the Œcumenical Council.

KENTUCKY increased her debt one million dollars last year, and the State Auditor estimates that there will be a deficit at the end of the present year of over a million. Like Maryland, Kentucky is in the control of the Democratic party.

THE scarlet fever epidemic having made its appearance at Mineral Point, Cambria county, the schools at that place have been closed. Several of the schools in Richland township have also been closed from the same cause.

A VERDICT for $10,000 has been rendered at Chicago against the Columbus, Chicago and Indiana Central Railroad, and in favor of a freight conductor, who was thrown under a train and lost a leg and arm, through the sudden stoppage of the cars by the engineer.

BRIGHAM YOUNG, Jr., is said to be sojourning in Philadelphia on account of the unwillingness of his third wife, a Philadelphia lady, to leave that city for the pleasures of Utah. A plurality of wives, it seems, does not entirely do away with family difficulties and female influence.

THERE is a division in the Œcumenical Council. The French bishops protest against the interference of the Pope in the Council's deliberations, and the Spanish bishops sustain him. The session will not be held in St. Peter's, on account of the acoustic imperfections of the hall.

A MEMBER of the English Cabinet states that a bill will shortly be introduced in Parliament allowing British subjects to divest themselves of allegiance to Great Britain whenever they see fit to do so. This is in accordance with the Naturalization treaty recently arranged between the United States and Great Britain.

A NUMBER of New Orleans milkmen were lately arrested and the contents of their cans submitted to a scientific test. The least adulteration by water was 30 per cent. and the greatest 60, the average being about 50 per cent. No examination was made as to foreign substances, though several were found in the course of the analysis. The milkmen were fined from $25 to $40.

COUNTERFEITS.—Well executed counterfeit $20 National Bank notes are in circulation on the Tradesmen's National Bank of New York, Market National Bank of Boston, National Bank of Commerce, New York, and First National Bank of Cincinnati. These notes are to deceive the business community. Some of them have been taken by the banks.

NEIL M Laughlin, the cab driver tried for complicity in the attempt to assassinate James J. Brooks, the government detective, was found guilty of the charge in the Court of Quarter Sessions of Philadelphia on Tuesday, and was sentenced to pay a fine of $1,000 and undergo an imprisonment of six years and eleven months.

IN Southwestern Virginia the Revenue officials are actively breaking up the illicit whisky stills, which have been run in the unsettled sections of the country without paying any tax to the Government. They frequently meet with violent interference, requiring the presence of troops for their protection in the discharge of their duty.

THE Emperor Napoleon has been ill for the past few days, but is now announced better. Lord Lyons, English Minister at Paris, has given a fete in honor of General N. P. Banks. The rumors of an Ollivier Ministry are revived. The stories regarding the ill health of the Pope are denied. The report of the announced opposition of the French Government to the doctrine of Papal infallibility is pronounced false. The Spanish Cortes have taken the preliminary steps to the selection of a King.

EIGHTEEN of the Spanish gunboats sailed from New York Sunday morning under convey of the frigate Pizarro. They were unmolested and departed very quietly. The iron clad Triumph, formerly the Atlanta, of rebellion notoriety, sailed from the Delaware the same morning, where she has been laying for the past week. The vessel was said to belong to the Haytien Government, but it is now rumored that it is Cuban property, and its departure at this time is supposed to be connected with the sailing of the Spanish gunboats.

A LETTER-WRITER from Richmond, Va., notes the interesting fact that the school where colored men are studying and fitting themselves as teachers and ministers is in the building formerly used as the slave pen to confine the negroes at night. He writes: "It seemed a sort of poetic justice that this very place, with the marks still at its windows of the iron bars that held back the negro to the dead level of ignorance, should now be the cradle of his instruction and the place of his eager resort for draughts at the Pierian spring that has, till so recently, been closed to him."

CONCESSION FROM ENGLAND.—The important statement is made in The London Times that should Mr. Motley make a proposal for the settlement of the Alabama claims, through negotiations at Washington instead of London, it will be accepted. The English organ speaks as by authority. The promise which it offers is the only well-defined advance in the spirit of concession which has been made by any newspaper claiming to speak for the English Government since Mr. Sumner's speech aroused a tumult of opinions and prejudices in our calculating friends across the Atlantic. Without surrendering anything of the sub stance in controversy, the remark of The Times indicates a measurable step in fair play and good feeling.

GREAT horror has recently been expressed in Bacchanalian circles at an item of information in the Internal Revenue reports concerning stimulating fluids. At Cincinnati, 42,000 barrels of "saloon washings" are redistilled every year, yielding about two and a half gallons of new spirits each. The slops bring about $2 per barrel. We do not know why re-distilled bar-room slops should disturb the equanimity of tough old absorbers, who have been so long complacently imbibing strychnine, bella-donna, cocculus indicus, sugar of lead, and other well-known chemicals, which lend such a fascination to the sparkling and rosy beaker. The re-distilled rinsings are not particularly dirty, we presume, until they have been doctored, and need no more trouble the stomach than foreign wines trodden out by the unwashed feet of Spanish or German peasants.

THE Fifth District of Ohio is represented in Congress by the Hon. WM. MUNGEN. William has not, that we are aware of, acquired the reputation of a great orator, but this did not deter him from reading, on Thursday last, a carefully written speech, in which he favored the repudiation of the National debt. William is a sound Democrat, and thoroughly conversant with the status of his party. In view of the widely diffused repudiation tendencies which characterized Democratic speeches and Democratic election documents during the Presidential campaign—the war upon the "bloated bondholder," national banks, and greenbacks—he had a right to believe his party fully committed to Repudiation, and innocently thought he was but steading a march on his Democratic associates in Congress by taking an advanced position. He forgot, however that the Presidential election had intervened, with a crushing popular condemnation of repudiation and repudiators, and hence his speech stirred up a hornet's nest in the House.—Brooks, Slocum and Cox of New York, Kerr of Indiana, Woodward and Randall of Pennsylvania, Eldridge of Wisconsin, and other representative Democrats, found it necessary to define their position; and they did it, one and all, in a square back down—repudiating for the Democratic party all responsibility for Mungen's views, and announcing themselves in favor of paying fully and honorably every dollar of the national debt! Poor Mungen found himself deserted even by his friends, and beat a hasty retreat.

Garfield, (Republican,) of Ohio adroitly took advantage of this general recantation of the repudiation heresy by the Democratic members, and introduced the annexed resolution:

Resolved, That any proposition, direct or indirect, to repudiate any portion of the debt of the United States, is unworthy the honor and good name of the nation, and that this House, without distinction of party, hereby sets its seal of condemnation on any and all such propositions.

There was some squirming on its introduction, but Garfield insisted on a square vote, and the resolution was adopted, yeas 123, nays 1. Strange to say the negative vote was cast by Mr. Jones, of Kentucky, who said he was not in favor of repudiation, but opposed the resolution because he deemed it ill-timed. What became of Mr. Mungen—whether he dodged the vote, or feared to face the breeze he had raised—is not stated, for he is not reported as voting. It is a matter of congratulation that the House expressed, in so decided a manner, their condemnation of repudiation, and Mungen at least has the credit of bringing it about.

HON. BENJAMIN F. BUTLER, of Massachusetts, and HORACE GREELY, of the New York Tribune, are just now engaged in a spicy correspondence on the subject of Reconstruction. GREELY advocates "universal suffrage and universal amnesty" as an all sufficient panacea for our national difficulties, and insists that reconstruction has been impeded by the policy of making "rebels take a back seat." BUTLER replies vigorously in defence of his policy—his policy with reference to un reconstructed Rebels, and charges the results in Georgia and Tennessee to the GREELY policy of a too confiding faith in fair promises. He would hold a stiff rein over the Rebel element until it brings forth "fruits meet for repentance." BUTLER is right, and such will be the judgment of the country.

THE Tennessee delegation in Congress, with the exception of Senator FOWLER and Representative HAWKINS, have prepared and will submit to Congress a protest against the validity of the recent election in that State, praying that it may be set aside on account of its illegality. Although Tennessee, through the treachery of Republicans, has made a complete surrender to the Rebel element, and practically ignored the work of Reconstruction, it is not likely that Congress will intervene.

WE print below figures from the New York Tribune, showing, in round amounts, the reduction of the national debt since General GRANT went into office, nine months ago. They speak for themselves:

GOLD on Saturday went down to 119¼, the lowest figure touched since September, 1862. The stringency in monetary matters is producing its legitimate effect. The failure of a number of large mercantile houses in New York is announced, and others will follow in that and other cities.

IN the United States Senate on Tuesday the bill for the suppression of polygamy in Utah Territory was favorably reported.

GEN. ALCORN's (Republican) majority for Governor in Mississippi will be about 63,000.

CONGRESS will adjourn over the holidays until the 10th of January.

THE National Cemeteries, during the last two years, have been visited by Adjutant General Lorenzo Thomas, who has just finished his report of his tour of inspection. From this document it appears that the total number of bodies of white officers and soldiers now buried in the National Cemeteries, public and private, amounts to 300,000. The number of colored soldiers, two-thirds of whom have been identified, amounts also to 300,000. The Virginia cemeteries contain 65,148 bodies; the Tennessee, 66,898; Mississippi, 25,717; Georgia, 23,702; North Carolina, 18,559; Louisiana, 18,120; South Carolina, 11,877; Kentucky, 10,420; Maryland, 9,267; Pennsylvania, 6,318, and New York, 4,697, making a total in the above States of 230,616. The expenses of burial, reinterment and laying out and improving the National Cemeteries has already amounted to $4,000,000, and it is estimated that $2,000,000 in addition will be required to place in complete order and preserve the thirty-five National Cemeteries. The cost of attending to each cemetery varies from $1500 to $2000 per annum, and the other items of expense will form an aggregate of $50,000. Some of the cemeteries along the rivers of the South are in danger of being washed away, unless repaired and the levees strengthened.

THE amount of coin now in the United States Treasury is said to be $118,000,000. A considerable portion of this will be needed soon for the payment of accruing interest on the Government indebtedness, but far more than half of it might at once be devoted to the purchase and extinction of a still larger amount of the National Debt. Why should we continue to pay interest on the Debt, and at the same time keep rusting in the Treasury the Gold with which the Debt might be canceled? Can any business man tell? Can any politician tell? Can any Member of Congress tell? Can the Secretary of the Treasury tell?

NEWS OF NEIGHBORING COUNTIES.

CUMBERLAND.—On the 9th inst., a little girl of Mr. James Brown, residing in Mechanicsburg, aged about 4 years, mistaking rat poison for sugar, ate some of it, from the effects of which she died after about 12 hours of intense suffering.—A large barn, belonging to the widow of Samuel J. Smith, near Oakville, was destroyed by fire on Sunday evening last, with a large quantity of hay and oats, three cows and a fat steer.—On Monday evening Daniel Byer's stable, in Newville, was destroyed by fire, with contents, including a cow and several fat hogs. In both cases incendiarism is suspected.

FRANKLIN.—Bishop Simpson will lecture in the Methodist church, Chambersburg, on Monday evening, Jan. 3, on "The Future of our Country."—David Stoner recently sold a tract of land near Waynesboro, containing 12 acres to Mr. John Price Jr., for $5600.

FREDERICK.—John P Dorr, residing near the Monocacy, about three miles north of Frederick city, was killed on Monday by the bursting of one of the burrs of a corn crushing machine. One of the fragments of the burr struck Mr. Derr in the stomach, causing his death in fifteen minutes. Another fragment struck a Mr. Stoner, who was present, and it is feared he is injured fatally. Another portion struck a colored man named Davis in the breast, who has since died of the concussion. Mr. James P. Houck, a neighboring farmer, luckily escaped with but a slight stun and a scratch upon the face near the eye.—Mr. John Bell of Emmitsburg district, came very near having two of his children drowned on the 16th inst., whilst crossing Tom's creek on their way to school. His two eldest girls, aged about 9 and 12 years, were on a horse together. The horse stumbled and threw them into the stream, which was very much swollen by the heavy rain the night previous. The eldest saved herself by catching to a fence, and the other floated down the creek some distance, when she was rescued by her father plunging in after her.

YORK.—Rev. Mr. Mills, of the Methodist Episcopal church in York, died suddenly on Sunday evening. He occupied the pulpit in the morning, attending Sabbath School in the afternoon, and thence went to call on a sick member of the church. On his return he was attacked with dizziness on the street, and died before medical aid could be called in.—A new Masonic Hall was dedicated in Shrewsbury on the 16th inst.—The widow and children of Adam Strickhouser on Tuesday obtained a verdict of $6,000 vs. the Northern Central Rail way Company, in the Baltimore City Court, as damages for the killing of Mr. Strickhouser by a collision between Baltimore and the Junction.—The Tan and Bark house of Mr. Breininger, in Chanceford township, with about $2,000 worth of bark and leather, was destroyed by fire on the 11th inst.—Charles Stambaugh, of Paradise township, was found dead in his barn on Friday last. His wife and children had left him well in the morning, to visit York. He had a cane in his hand and was well dressed. It is supposed he was preparing to visit a neighbor, when a stroke of apoplexy deprived him of life.

THE ALABAMA CLAIMS.—A well informed Washington correspondent writes:

The public will learn with satisfaction that another important step has been taken in regard to the Alabama claims negotiations. It was recently announced that this Government had proposed the transfer of the negotiations to Washington, as a preliminary to the reopening of the question, and the London papers on Friday last, referring to this statement, announced that if Mr. Motley proposed this transfer it would be accepted. I am able to state that Mr. Motley not only proposed the transfer of the negotiations as a condition precedent to a reopening of the case, but, under the instructions of the Secretary of State, he further proposed that the question of the neutrality of the seas or international maritime law should also be included among the questions of future arbitration. The British Government has given its formal assent to both propositions. No period for the renewal of negotiations has been fixed That will be left to future developments; but the basis is now so arranged that the submission of new propositions is merely a question of time. The public will not overlook the importance of the new point which is to be included for settlement hereafter, and which has been substantially ignored heretofore. Under it England will be obliged to concede that the arming of the Alabama upon the high seas was as much a violation of neutrality as though it had occurred in her own ports.

ANOTHER HORRIBLE CASUALTY—CAVING IN OF A MINE.—HAZLETON, PA., December 18.—At 5 o'clock this morning at Stockton, near this place, a coal mine caved in, filling the shaft and tunnel with enormous masses of earth, and carrying two large houses down with it bodily, and choking the entrance of the mine.

There were several persons in the dwelling houses, and these were carried down in the mass and buried hopelessly in the ruins. Of course they were instantly killed, although as yet it has been entirely impossible to reach their bodies. Some men, it is reported, were in the mine at the time, and are supposed to be killed instantly. Ten persons in all lost their lives, and efforts are now being made to extricate their bodies. The houses fell a distance of forty feet, and were broken into fragments.

A despatch form Hazleton says the cause of the accident was on account of working the breast in the colliery too near the surface under the houses, there being only about 20 feet space left where they caved in. Only a few days before a couple of persons in a truck were pitched into a similar hole where a foundation of the railroad had given away over some workings that approached too near the surface.

MEXICO.—REVOLUTION BY THE LOT.—CITY OF MEXICO, December 10—via HAVANA, December 19.—The entire Republic is full of pronunciamentos. There was a temporary lull in the revolution at San Luis, and at Queretaro armed factions were confronting each other and several skirmishes had occurred. Armed insurrection exists in Michoacan. Bands have taken the field in Jalisco. In Mazatlan a revolution was hourly expected. A company of Federal troops was attacked in the State of Mexico only eight leagues from the Capital and a Captain and three soldiers killed.

The Monitour states that a mob had attacked the Protestant congregation at Puebla during service. The mob was led by an ex Imperialist officer and urged on by the priests. Many of the congregation were severely injured. Some, it is supposed, will die from injuries received. The mob tried to burn the Protestants alive, using Bibles as a funeral pile. The police interfered and arrested several. The rioters afterwards went to several Protestant houses, insulting and threatening the inmates.

AT Aurora, Ill., Thursday evening, two young ladies named Addyman were walking past the residence of Samuel McCarty, accompanied by a younger brother. As they reached the gate the lad took hold of it, when instantly a gun was discharged.—A portion of the shot struck one of the sisters in the mouth, knocking out her teeth. The balance of the charged lodged in the shoulder of the other lady. Both are severely injured. The gun had been set with a spring to shoot boys who pulled down the fence. McCarty is one of the most respectable citizens of Aurora. He will be arrested.

SENATOR WILSON on Saturday presented to the President a delegation from Florida, consisting of Hon. C. M. Hamilton, Representative from that State; Bishop Pierce, State Senator; General Cass, Adjutant General, and J. C. Gibbs, Secretary of State, who urged the President to send troops to their State to assist the civil authorities in executing the law and protecting the lives of the citizens, a number of assassinations having recently occurred there. The President promised that he would confer with the Secretary of War, and forward troops to the State if it could be done.

THE ONLY RELIABLE CURE FOR DYSPEPSIA IN THE KNOWN WORLD.

Dr. Wishart's Great American Dyspepsia Pills and Pine Tree Tar Cordial are a positive and infallible cure for dyspepsia in its most aggravated form, and no matter of how long standing.

They penetrate the secret abode of this terrible disease, and exterminate it, root and branch, forever.

They alleviate more agony and misery and suffering than tongue can tell.

They are noted for curing the most desperate and hopeless cases, when every known means fail to afford relief.

No form of dyspepsia or indigestion can resist their penetrating power.

PINE TREE TAR CORDIAL.

It is the vital principle of the Pine Tree, obtained by a peculiar process in the distillation of the tar, by which its highest medical properties are retained. It invigorates the digestive organs and restores the appetite. It strengthens the whole system. It purifies and enriches the blood, and expels from the system the humors which scrofula breeds on the lungs. It dissolves the mucus or phlegm which stops the air passages of the lungs. Its healing principles act upon the irritated surface of the lungs and throat, penetrating to each diseased part, relieving pain and causing healthy secretions. It is the great friend of study and experiment, and it is offered to the afflicted with positive assurance of its power to cure the following diseases, if the patient does not too long delayed a resort to the means of cure:—

Consumption, Loss of Lungs, Coughs, Sore Throats, and Breast, Bronchaites, Liver Complaint, Blind and Bleeding Piles, Asthma, Whooping Cough, Croup, &c.

A medical expert, holding honorable collegiate diplomas, devotes his entire time to the examination of patients at the office parlors. Associate with him are three consulting physicians of acknowledged eminence, whose services are given to the public free of charge.

This opportunity is offered by no other institution in the country.

Letters from any part of the country, asking advice, will be promptly and gratuitously responded to. Where convenient, remittances should take the shape of

The Star and Sentinel.

Gettysburg, Friday, Dec. 24, 1869.

SOLD.—Mr. Lewis Strouse has sold his House and Lot on Stratton street, to Charles Kapiss for $1100 cash.

TO BE CLOSED.—We are requested to state that the Stores and places of business in Gettysburg will be closed on Christmas day.

IN ADVANCE.—We issue the STAR AND SENTINEL this week in advance of our usual publication day to enable our employees to observe Christmas.

CHRISTMAS SERVICES.—The Sabbath School of Christ church in this place will have special exercises on Christmas eve, (Friday evening.) The School will meet at 7½ o'clock, in the church.

CLERICAL.—Rev. J. A. Earnest, of Kittaning, has accepted a call from the Lutheran Church in Westminster, Md., and Rev. B. C. Susserott, of Springfield, Ill.; a call from the Lutheran Church in Lancaster, Pa., as successor of Rev. W. V. Gotwald, deceased. Both gentlemen graduated at the Institutions in this place and married Gettysburg ladies.

A TREAT IN PROSPECT.—We understand that PHILIP PHILIPS, of New York, the distinguished Vocalist, and widely known as the author of the "Singing Pilgrim," "Musical Leaves," and other capital musical publications, will give a Concert in Agricultural Hall on the 20th of January. He comes under the auspices of the Methodist Episcopal Sabbath School. Mr. Philip's engagements are usually made long months ahead, and the School is fortunate in securing his services.

SALE BILLS.—Those of our friends who contemplate making sale of their real estate or personal property during the coming Spring, are respectfully informed that we are better prepared than ever to execute Sale Bills promptly and in good style, having largely increased our assortment of Job Type. The large and increasing circulation of the "STAR AND SENTINEL," also presents an invaluable medium for advertising these sales, a knowledge of which can thereby be promptly diffused over this and adjoining counties. Give us a call.

RARE CHANCE FOR INVESTMANT.—We direct the attention of Guardians, Trustees, and persons having money to invest, to the advertisement of the Trustees of Pa. College in to-day's issue. Persons desiring to invest from $1,000 to $8,000 on the very best of Mortgage security, free from all State and local taxation, with the certainty of prompt and regular payment of interest, can find no better investment. The College owns real estate and invested securities worth over $400,000. This loan of $8,000 is made for a specific purpose under a special act of the Legislature, and the mortgage will bind all the real estate of the Institution. Apply to Hon. MOSES MCCLEAN, President, or A. D. SUEHLER, Treasurer, of the Board of Trustees.

IMPROVEMENTS IN NEW OXFORD.—Messrs. Feiser and Sheely have built a two story frame dwelling on High street.

On Baltimore street, just above High street, a two story brick building, with a back building for a Bakery, owned and built by Mr. Hershey.

On Philadelphia street, near Wiest's Hotel, Mr. Conrad Nagle has built a two story frame building, which is nearly completed.

On the Pike, near the Railroad, a Solomon's Temple on a small scale is being built by Mr. A. S. Himes. It is of brick, on the cottage order, and one of the finest buildings in the county. This beautiful building will add greatly to the appearance of the town.

Opposite the Lutheran church, a frame building was completed some time ago by Mr. Nicholas Heltzel.

Opposite the German Reformed church, a two-story frame building has been completed and occupied by Mr. King.

Mr. David Hoke and J. S. Gilt have each built an addition to their houses in the shape of wood houses and kitchen—both buildings on the Gettysburg Square, near the Public Square.

Mr. Hoke, Dr. Hendrix, and several others have built new barns of modern style. They are fine structures.

We also understand that ground has been broken for several new buildings to be erected very soon in this neat village. New Oxford is looking up.

New buildings near the Toll Gate have also lately been built by Jacob and Alexander Diehl.

An air castle is being built by Mr. Grove, to be used for various purposes—also located on the Pike, between the Railroad and Toll Gate.

WESTERN MARYLAND RAILROAD.—In answer to a request from the City Council, a statement of the affairs of the Western Maryland Railroad Company was recently submitted by the President, Mr. Wendell Bollman. The outstanding liabilities of the Company other than stock indebtedness are $201,777.14, to meet which there are as resources $247,838.43. The earnings for the fiscal year ending September 30th, 1869, were $138,801.60, and its expenses $108,708,10, in which, however, is included some extraordinary and accidental damages. The road is in good condition, the Company is replacing all its defective track, and it has been run on good time and without accident. He says that it is the intention of the Company to commence an indipendent direct line into the city of Baltimore at once. He is of opinion, however, that it would be advisable and to the interest of Baltimore to place the road in working condition from its present terminus at Double Pipe Creek to Mechanicstown, and thence to Hagerstown, thereby securing a branch road from the important towns of Emmitsburg, Maryland, and Waynesboro', Pennsylvania, as well as a connection with the Frederick and Littlestown Railroad, and enable the Company to realize benefits from the entire amount of money expended. Mr. Bollman gives an emphatic opinion in regard to the paying capabilities of the road upon its completion.

NEW TURNPIKE.—At the last session of the Legislature an act was passed to incorporate "The Fairfield and Gettysburg Turnpike Company," to construct a pike from Fairfield to this place. The present road is a wretched one, and almost impassable some seasons of the year, and we are glad to learn that the enterprise is enlisting a good deal of interest along the line of the road. A meeting of all citizens favorable to the organization of a company has been called to meet at Silvery's Hotel, in Fairfield, on New Year's day, at 1 o'clock, to consult and adopt the requisite preparatory steps. We annex a list of the Commissioners named in the Act of Incorporation:

Peter Shively, Jacob Musselman, John Waugh, John Musselman, Henry Landis, James Donaldson, Adam C. Musselman, David Miller, Henry Yingling, David Musselman, Joseph Culbertson, David Stewart, John J. Kerr, Andrew Weikert, Isaac Herter, Emanuel Harman, Joseph Wible, Robert McCurdy, Alexander Spangler, James Bigham, John Cress, William Myers, Henry Rupp, Geo. W. McClellan, Samuel Herbst, R. C. McGinly, Henry Bream, John Currens, John L. Tate, James Bigham.

A VISIT FROM ST. NICHOLAS.

BY CLEMENT C. MOORE.

'Twas the night before Christmas, when all through the house
Not a creature was stirring, not even a mouse;
The stockings were hung by the chimney with care,
In hopes that St. Nicholas soon would be there;
The children were nestled all snug in their beds,
While visions of sugar plums danced in their heads;
And mamma in her kerchief, and I in my cap,
Had just settled our brains for a long winter's nap,
When out on the lawn there arose such a clatter,
I sprang from my bed to see what was the matter.
Away to the window I flew like a flash,
Tore open the shutters, and threw up the sash.
The moon on the breast of the new-fallen snow
Gave the lustre of mid-day to objects below;
When, what to my wondering eyes should appear,
But a miniature sleigh and eight tiny reindeer,
With a little old driver, so lively and quick,
I knew in a moment it must be St. Nick.
More rapid than eagles his coursers they came,
And he whistled and shouted and called them by name:
"Now, Dasher! now, Dancer! now, Prancer! and Vixen!
On, Comet! on, Cupid! on, Donder! and Blitzen!
To the top of the porch, to the top of the wall!
Now dash away! dash away! dash away, all!"
As dry leaves that before the wild hurricane fly,
When they meet with an obstacle mount to the sky,
So up to the house-tops the coursers they flew,
With the sleigh full of toys and St. Nicholas too;
And then in a twinkling I heard on the roof
The prancing and pawing of each little hoof.
As I drew in my head and was turning around,
Down the chimney St. Nicholas came with a bound.
He was dressed all in fur from his head to his foot,
And his clothes were all tarnished with ashes and soot;
A bundle of toys he had flung on his back,
And he looked like a peddler just opening his pack.
His eyes, how they twinkled! his dimples, how merry!
His cheeks were like roses, his nose like a cherry!
His dear little mouth was drawn up like a bow,
And the beard of his chin was white as the snow;
The stump of a pipe he held tight in his teeth,
And the smoke it encircled his head like a wreath.
He had a broad face and a little round belly,
That shook when he laughed like a bowlful of jelly;
He was chubby and plumb, a right jolly old elf,
And I laughed when I saw him in spite of myself.
A wink of his eye and a twist of his head
Soon gave me to know I had nothing to dread.
He spoke not a word, but went straight to his work,
And filled all the stockings—then turned with a jerk,
And laying his finger aside of his nose,
And giving a nod, up the chimney he rose.
He sprang to his sleigh, to his team gave a whistle,
And away they all flew like the down of a thistle—
But I heard him exclaim, as he drove out of sight,
"Merry Christmas to all, and to all a good-night."

CHRISTMAS.—The Christmas holidays are at hand, and doubtless visions of "Santa Claus" and "Kriss Kinkle"—candies and sugar plums—have for weeks been disturbing the dreams of the little folks, while the waking thoughts of older heads have been equally busy in looking up gifts and arranging for a proper observance of the great festival. Recognized by the Catholic, Episcopal, and German churches generally, as one of the most important festivals in the ecclesiastical calendar, it is rapidly being accepted by all classes as a season of hilarity and good will. The festival, as everybody knows, is designed to commemorate the birth of our Saviour, and hence its name, Christmas—derived from the Latin words, Christus (Christ) and Missus (sent)—literally, Christ-sent. The time of year in which the Advent took place, is involved in doubt. The narrative in the inspired record, as to the shepherds who watched their flocks by night, and finding of the babe in the manger at Bethlehem, &c., makes it probable at least that it did not occur in mid-winter. Indeed the Christian Church in the first and second centuries was much divided on this point—the festival being observed by different portions of it in almost every month of the year, from January to December.

The fixing of the 25th of December was the act of Julius I., the Pope or Bishop of Rome from 337 to 352, A. D., this date corresponding with the period then observed in most of the Western, in contra-distinction to the Eastern, Churches. The selection of this date was doubtless largely influenced by the fact that the Pagan nations generally observed the same period as a festival in honor of their deities, which, under various names, symbolized the Sun or Fire. Out of the same fact largely grew the custom of making gifts, wreathing churches in evergreens, erecting Christmas trees, &c., which now characterize our Christmas observances.

The Goths, Saxons, and Celtic nations generally in Northern and Western Europe, were worshippers of the Sun or Fire, and regarding the Winter Solstice as a most important part of the year—the beginning of the renewed life and activity of the forces of nature—these nations from the oldest times celebrated this season with the greatest festivities, in honor of their great deity, Odin or Woden, (Sun), in whom these forces of nature were symbolized. Hence the Yule-feast, in commemoration of the return of the fiery "sun-wheel," among the Germans, we believed that during the twelve nights from December 25 to January 6, they could trace the personal movements and interference on earth of their great deities, in breaking up the icy chains of Winter.—During this season, the people gave themselves up to rejoicing and feasting. Work and business were suspended; houses were decked with laurels and evergreens; fires were kindled in and out of doors; presents were made by parents to children, and exchanged between friends.—Among the ruder nations (the Druids especially), the festival degenerated into the most licentious orgies, accompanied by sacrifices of cattle, and even human life, to propitiate their deities. As Christianity spread into Western Europe, the power of the Church was brought to bear upon these pagan rites; but denunciation failing to suppress them, the Christian festival of Christmas was introduced as a substitute; and hence the customs of making presents, decking churches with evergreens, the visitations of Santa Claus, &c., (borrowed from the pagan festivals), which have been super-added to the religious observances prescribed by the Church.

Whatever the origin of these customs, they are now time-honored. Prudently conducted, they become innocent sources of pleasure, and we believe in their observance. While duly honoring the religious festival, which commemorates the great love of God in the gift of his Son for the redemption of a sin-ruined world, let it also be made in every household as an occasion of rejoicing and good-will. Especially let the hearts of the little ones be made glad by joyous anticipations and still more joyous realizations, even if their fore-castings do not rise above visions of "sugar plums." Welcome "Santa Claus," with his merry, good-natured face, and pockets full of toys; don't be afraid of a little fun. Put up the "Christmas Tree," and let it be loaded with mementoes of affection and goodwill, as between parents and children, brothers and sisters, friends and relatives. Let the "old folks" become children again, while the little folks" have life's pathway lighted up with glad memories of Christmas eve. Make home supremely happy for at least one day in the year if not stop there. Let your sympathy go out broadly and freely on Christmas eve, and while you light up your own homes with kindly greetings and innocent mirth, see to it that those who feel the pinching pressure of poverty, share the bounties wherewith Providence has blessed you. Remember the poor.

To all our patrons we extend the greeting of the season, with hearty wishes for a "Merry Christmas." Christmas without Christmas gifts would be very much like Hamlet with the mad Prince omitted, for among the many pleasant rites which are peculiarly associated with the season, there is none that ante date the custom of bestowing gifts upon relatives or friends as tokens of good will and kindly wishes. We heartily approve the custom and advise all who are yet undecided as to where and what to buy, to examine our Business Directory, with the corresponding advertisements, and they cannot fail to get something that will please every fancy.

A BOLD FRAUD.—For some time the mails have been filled with "confidential" circulars from various parties in New York offering to furnish counterfeit U. States Notes at low rates. The whole thing is of course a swindle. In most cases the names are fictitious. When persons addressed are "green" enough to be caught in the trap and forward money, that is the last of it. By the time the police are put to work, the parties are "non est inventus"—no where to be found—having changed quarters, ready for some new swindling dodge. Sometimes these circulars are speciously worded, offering to supply genuine "copies" or "imitations" of United States, and by and by along comes a package of miniature photographs—exact "imitations"—and the would-be-dealer in counterfeits finds himself sold. One of the boldest circulars of this class has been handed to us by one of our most prominent and respected citizens, addressed to him through the Post-office. Like all circulars of this class it is marked strictly confidential. As a curiosity we give it entire, and simply remark, for the benefit of all who may have been addressed in like manner, that the whole thing is of course a transparent swindle, and that every one green enough to bite at the bait deserves to lose his money:

"DEAR SIR:—Believing you to be "true blue" we will introduce for your consideration a matter which will be the means of our raising many thousands of dollars in your pocket in a very short time. We have on hand now, ready for circulation, $850,500 in $1, $2 and $5 bills. They are the best counterfeits ever put on the market, and we defy the Treasury experts thereafter to detect them. They are the same size as the genuine, are printed on first class paper, are correctly numbered, and are so exceeding well executed in every respect that they cannot possibly be detected even by the aid of a powerful microscope. We have them put up in packages of $500 each. We will sell you $500 of the $1 or $2 bills for $100; $1,000 for $180. We shall charge you $240 per $1,000 on the $5 bills as the engraving of the plate cost us considerably more than for the others. If you desire to feel your way before investing largely we will send you $500 upon the receipt of $5, or $10 whichever you see fit to send us, and you may pay the balance within 15 days after receiving the bills, or we will wait until you arrive. Any Railroad ticket agent will take them because he cannot detect them. Don't show more than $50 at a time in a place. You can well afford to remit the balance in two hours, but we will give you plenty of time. You may form some idea about the quality of our bills by reading the enclosed extract cut from the Herald. The stock is in a safe place and we defy the sharpest detectives in New York unless you blow on us, which we know you will not do. Always send money by Express, registered letter. We will do the same. Then nothing will be lost in the Mails and everything will work harmoniously between us. If you prefer we will send it by express, collect on delivery, pack well in such a way as not to excite suspicion that it is money. Depend upon it we are in earnest in this matter and if you take hold of it in a proper manner you can make $20,00 before February. We have taken every precaution in the execution of these notes to render you as safe as if you were handling good money, for better executed bills were never issued in the world. In case you should be indiscreet enough to let a Bank know in any one don't mention where it came from. We have the reputation in New York of being men of good standing and therefore we will never be suspected of dealing in counterfeit money. If you could manage to come on we could talk freely about the matter and make arrangements for a big business. If you come on show this envelope to the man at the desk and he will know you. Don't mention any thing about counterfeit money, as he will pretend not to understand you. He will know what's up. We implore you not to betray us in case you are not inclined to go in. State what circumstances you will, how much, and either destroy this or send it back. Address plainly

FIDELITY OF A DOG TO HIS MASTER.—The Pittsburg (Va) Index says: Mr. Richard S. Bowden, aged about twenty years, a young man widely known and much esteemed in this section, accidentally shot himself while out hunting near his residence, in Prince George county, on Monday morning, sustaining injuries from the effects of which he died the same night. The circumstances attending the unfortunate occurrence we learn are about these:

After breakfast, Mr. Bowden took his gun, and calling his hounds, went out to kill some rabits for dinner. Toward 9 o'clock, skirting the woods, about half or three quarters of a mile from home, the dogs started a hare. The weeds being thick and high, Mr. Bowden attempted to mount a stump to get a view of the animal. The stump was partially decayed and gave way, the cock of the gun striking a portion of it, and causing the weapon to be discharged. The muzzle of the gun was touching his abdomen, and the entire load entered that vital portion of the body, tearing and wounding the bowels in a terrible manner, and lodging in the liver and lungs. Mr. Bowden fell to the ground, and was unable to rise or even give alarm. In this condition he remained six hours, before he was found. He endeavored to drive his dogs home that their appearance without him might excite suspicion and cause a search to be made. Two of the dogs left him, but a third, and one which had never shown much fondness for him, remained and licked his hand, and showed an intelligent and tender sympathy for him.

Mr. Bowden wrote upon a piece of paper a brief announcement of his wounded condition, described the place at which he could be found and with the string of his powder flask tied it to the dog's neck, and tried to drive the the animal home. It was not until he had dragged himself to some undergrowth and broken a switch, and several times whipped the dog away, that the latter was driven off. In going homeward the dog passed across Mr. Richard Saunsy's place, where his conduct attracted the attention of Mr. S. and a brother of Mr. Bowden. The animal could not be induced to approach nearer than forty or fifty yards of them, and when they endeavored to approach him he would run away in a certain direction and then stop as if inviting them to follow. They did follow, suspecting something wrong, and some few hundred yards distant found the wounded man, and the dog by him.

Mr. Bowden was conveyed to Mr. Sauxsy's residence, where he lingered in great pain, but perfectly conscious until 9 o'clock at night.

It may be remarked as somewhat singular, that after the deceased had started out hunting, his eldest brother expressed himself as very uneasy about him. He seemed to have a premonition of some accident to his brother, even went once and found and begged him to come home. He was about starting a second time in search of him, in company with Mr. S., when the dog above mentioned attracted his attention. It may also be mentioned that the dog followed the body to the chamber and remained with the corpse continually refusing to be driven from the room.

FARM-YARD SONG.

BY J. T. TROWBRIDGE.

Over the hill the farm-boy goes,
His shadow lengthens along the land,
A giant staff in a giant hand;
In the poplar tree above the spring,
The katydid begins to sing;
The early dews are falling—
Into the stone-heap darts the mink;
The swallows skim the river's brink,
And home to the woodland fly the crows,
When over the hill the farm-boy goes,
Cheerily calling—
"Co,' boss! co', boss! co'! co'! co'!"
Farther, farther over the hill,
Faintly, calling, calling still—
"Co', boss! co', boss! co'! co'!"

Into the yard the farmer goes,
With grateful heart at the close of day;
Harness and chain are hung away;
In the wagon-shed stand yoke and plow;
The straw's in the stack, the hay in the mow,
The cooling dews are falling;
The friendly sheep his welcome bleat,
The pig comes grunting to his feet,
The whinnying mare her master knows,
When into the yard the farmer goes,
His cattle calling—
"Co', boss! co', boss! co'! co'! co'!"
While still the cow-boy, far away,
Goes seeking those that have gone astray—
"Co', boss! co', boss! co'! co'!

Now to her task the milkmaid goes,
The cattle come crowding through the gate
Lowing, pushing, little and great;
About the trough, by the farm-yard pump
The frolicsome yearlings frisk and jump;
While the pleasant dews are falling
The new milch heifer is quick and shy,
But the old cow waits with tranquil eye;
And the white stream into the bright pail flows,
When to her task the milkmaid goes,
Soothingly calling—
"So, boss! so, boss! so! so!"
The cheerful milkmaid takes her stool,
And sits and milks in the twilight cool,
"Saying, "So-o, boss! so! so!"

To supper at last the farmer goes,
The apples are pared, the paper read,
The stories are told, then all to bed.
Without, the cricket's song
Makes shrill and silence all night long;
The heavy dews are falling.
The housewife's hand has turned the lock;
Drowsily ticks the kitchen clock;
The household sinks to deep repose;
But still in sleep the farm-boy goes
Singing, calling—
"Co', boss! co,' boss! co'! co'! co'!"
And oft the milkmaid in her dreams,
Drums in the pail with the flashing streams,
Murmuring, "So, boss! so!"

CLEARING FOREST LANDS.

As we resided upwards of seven years in the western country, says the agricultural editor of the Cincinnati Enquirer, part of the time lutting it in a log cabin, and nearly the whole of it activelyengaged in clearing forest lands, and bringing them into cultivation, we profess to know something practically of the subject upon which we are about to write.

There are several methods of clearing land, dependent entirely upon the prices of wood and timber in the neighborhood of their location. Where these are valueless, except for the purpose of fencing the farm and making its buildings, the slashing system of clearing is usually resorted to. This consists in taking a very large tree for the centre, and cutting it off as nearly as possible to do so without endangering its falling. Then begin and cut all the trees in a circle of a hundred feet or so from the centre, the same as the first, and in such a manner as to insure their falling toward the centre one if possible. When the circle is cut, four men with their axes take opposite sides on the outside of the circle at the largest trees, and commence cutting on them till they fall, taking care that the four trees shall come to the ground as nearly as possible at the same time. These, in falling, generally carry all the other trees with them that they touch, and they again others; so that when the circle so cut has finished falling, nearly all the trees in this diameter of two hundred feet will lie with their heads pointing to the centre, their butts out, and lapping each other like reversed shingles.

Others cut the trees so as to fall in a line, head to head, making them appear, when they get through chopping a swath, as if they had been raked in winrows. To lay the trees in circles or rows, requires both judgment and address; and none but experienced hands should undertake it, otherwise they will fall entirely in accomplishing their task. Slashing is also performed by cutting the trees and allowing them to fall as they please; but this is considerd very unworkmanlike, and unless the wood and ground are very dry at the time of firing, it leaves many more logs to roll up into heaps for burning than either of the plans first mentioned.

Heavy log rolling is not only an expensive but an excessively laborious business, as we well know to our cost. We reckon it equivalent to digging rocks and laying stone walls; a business also in which we profess a trifle of experience. The extra number of logs usually left to be rolled after firing, let the trees be cut with all the address possible, is the greatest objection we have heard to the slashing system of clearing land, and although it saves labor in the first operation, unless the soil be a dry one, we would not recommend its being adopted. Where the soil abounds in clay, the land is tenacious in holding water, and if the forests growing upon it are slashed, the trunks of the fallen trees get so saturated with moisture that scarce one summer in four will prove sufficiently dry to burn them. It will be necessary to let the trees slashed lie till the second summer after being cut, before they will effectually burn.

The second method of clearing land is, as fast as the trees are fallen to cut up into logs of convenient length, say fifteen or thirty feet long, and roll them together, placing the largest at the bottom, and then pile the tops of the trees upon them, and burn when the wood becomes thoroughly dry.

DRIVING.—Walk around and see that the harness is all right and buckled up so as to give the horse plenty of room for action, and not so much as to make a plunge at crossing every little break or gutter, but just as if the horse and carriage were built together. Slack the check rein, if you have one, and let the horse carry his head naturally—he will travel better, endure longer and show his true gait. Examine his feet and see that the shoes are all fast. Step in and lay hold of the reins gently, and by a gentle motion let the horse understand that you wish him to start, or speak gently to him; he knows what is to be done, and awaits the order patiently—sometimes impatiently.

Drive slow for a mile or so until he gets warmed up, then increase the speed gradually: if urged beyond his natural gait for a day, travel it will injure him, but for an hour's drive you may put on a little extra speed. Be careful about watering when on a drive. Two gallons will refresh him as well as four, and will be better for him.

If brought into the stable very warm, let him cool a little before the blanket is put on, for if put on immediately it will add to the heat. If not very warm, blanket him at once. As soon as cool, clean and bed him down—rub his legs well. Do not let him stand over night without being cleaned and well rubbed. Do not forget to feed.

THE WORLD,

DODGES' OHIO AND BUCKEYE

Reapers and Mowers.

A careful examination of these machines will commence any one of their superior merits over all others, in strength, durability, ease of draft, and facility for work, on all kinds of ground, and in every variety of grass and grain. Confident of this we invite those in want of a good machine to examine for themselves before purchasing elsewhere.

These machines can be sold as Naked Mowers—REAPERS as Hand Rake, Self-Rake, or Dropper—Two different sizes. No 1 Machine, with two cutter bars and three Knives, cutting five and a half feet of grain and four feet eight inches in grass; No. 2, cutting four feet six inches in grass.

We have that confidence in these machines that we are willing to let those wanting a machine test them with any other they may wish, and keep the one that gives most satisfaction. DODGES' AUTOMAN SELF-RAKE has given such general satisfaction that we consider it the best Self-Raker, and is attended to no other machine except the Dodge Machine, the Ohio and Buckeye patent.

For the benefit of those wanting machines we would refer them to a few of those to whom we have sold the last season, viz:

John Beardoff, Sen., Henry Culp,
Ephraim Lady, Henry King,
George Lady, Elisha Penrose,
Jonathan Wisler, David Stewart

Also, WIRE TOOTH HAY RAKES, including the celebrated Brandt Rake, and Self-discharging Rakes. Also, PLOUGHS, VANNING MILLS, AND FARM IMPLEMENTS GENERALLY.

Persons wishing to examine machines will find them at the warehouse of JOHN WIBLE & Son, Gettysburg, Pa., or at the residence of the subscriber, 2 miles from Gettysburg, on the Harrisburg road. Persons wanting Circulars will address the subscriber, Gettysburg, Pa.

STILL AHEAD!

HOFFHEINS'

REAPER & MOWER,

One of the Greatest Machines of the Age,

IS superior to any other Machine now in use, and will excel any that will ever be introduced, having been thoroughly tried and given general satisfaction. I would now inform all those who intend purchasing Machines to call and examine for themselves. This Machine is noted particularly for ease of draft, and reliability of work, in all kinds of grass and grain.—It cuts to good advantage, which is a great item in Machines to a farmer. It can be used as a hand rake as well as a self-raker. It cuts 5 feet 2 inches in grain; 4 feet 10 inches in grass; has a steel cutter bar, with wrought iron guards; it can be used as a Single Mower as well as a Combined Machine.

A full trial of the Machine can be had.

Also, SHERMAN'S SELF-DISCHARGING HORSE RAKE, and the great and well-known BRANT RAKE, the best rakes ever introduced. We would also call your attention to the IRON DOUBLE SHOVEL PLOUGH, wrought iron frame, very light and strong, steel shovels, easily adjusted to run shallow or deep, and is neatly and tastefully made.

ALSO, THE KESLER AND EXCELSIOR FANNING MILL, the old "Ambergraph Fan improved, for many years a great favorite among the farmers of Pennsylvania. It is large and strong, has two cockle screens, and warranted to work perfectly.

Also all kinds of FARMING IMPLEMENTS always on hand.

Any person wishing to examine these machines can see them at the Battle-field Hotel or at my residence, 3 miles from Gettysburg, between the Taneytown road and the Baltimore pike.

FOR CURING

HUMORS OF THE SCALP

and preventing itching it is wonderfully successful.

For Preventing the Hair

AS A DRESSING

nothing surpasses it. It imparts to dry, faded and wiry Hair that beautiful glossy appearance so much admired.

Containing no oil or grease it does not soil the finest linen.

It is compounded upon Scientific principles of the purest ingredients and is entirely harmless.

Being perfumed with the most delicate Extracts its odor is delightful.
